

Skill Development Training for 20 fish farmers from 12 December,2018 o 17 January,2019on Aquaculture Worker Job Role Conducted at ICAR-DCFR, Bhimtal, Uttarakhand

Skill development training of 200 hours in job role of Aquaculture Worker was successfully conducted at ICAR-DCFR, Bhimtal for the fish farmers of Nainital District. During the month long training from 12 December, 2018 t o 17 January, 2019, twenty fish farmers learnt scientific techniques of fish farming as per the National Occupational Standard for aquaculture worker. Practical on the principal learning by doing and lectures on site selection, pre-stocking, post stocking pond management, safety, health and hygiene measures were organized. Exposure visits to fish farms, lakes and hatcheries was also undertaken to acquaint farmers on aquaculture practices. Assessment of the trainees was successfully accomplished on 31st January, 2019. Dr Debajit Sarma, Director ICAR-DCFR Bhimtal expressed his happiness over the successful completion of skill training and conveyed his best wishes to participating farmers. The training was coordinated by Dr Suresh Chandra, Principal Scientist & certified trainer Aquaculture Worker.

