As an important part of the Swachhata Hi Sewa Campaign 2024, one of the much needed tasks of this campaign is to recognize the dedicated work of the safai mitras. Indeed, with their dedication and wholehearted support, this wouldn't be successful to meet the targets/objectives set for the entire period of the campaign for which various activities were defined to be carried by the staff members of the institute. Though the safai mitras are always at their work to clean the office as well as its campus, surroundings, laboratories and other units as well as drainages adjoining the office and guest house campus, but in this national campaign all the safai mitras working in this institute put their sincere efforts to help the staffs in making the campaign a successful one.

On this occasion a small workshop on waste to wealth was also organized in the institute, in which the importance of swachhata was discussed with the principle of "Reduce, Reuse, Recycle". A focus on reducing the single use plastic was also made.

At the end of the programme, all the safai mitras were honoured for their dedicated work to make the national campaign successful at this institute.
